

Jade (Robertson) Zwingli has been involved with CARO for 9 years and has competed with her many dogs. She loves the sense of community and positive support that CARO embodies and has made some lifelong friends thanks to the organization. Jade has also taught rally obedience classes encouraging new generations of teams to come out and give the sport a try. She holds CARO trials and classes in Calgary, Alberta as well as teaches classes in Nanaimo, BC where she will eventually host trials as well. Jade is in a unique position to serve as the Director for Alberta/BC/Northern Territories because of her involvement in the sport across two provinces. She recognizes the unique challenges each region has in growing the sport and is dedicated to teaching and encouraging dog lovers everywhere the benefits of rally obedience. Jade is a full time dog trainer and human resource professional and will bring her knowledge of animal behaviour and human administration skills to the board.
